RUSSIAN RETREAT.

The Main Force of Gen. Kuroptkin Is Being Rapidly Moved to the North.

A SKELETON FORCE REMAINS.

Rolling Stock Is Being Rushed South Empty For the Removal of Troops at Liao Yung.

Gen. Gao, Count Kehar Was Killed by a Bursting Shell During the Battle Near Liao Yang On July 29.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—Although public attention has been distracted from the events of the war during the past week, first because of the fear of international complications, and second, because of the assassination of Minister of the Interior Von Ploshke, the situation at the front is regarded as critical.

The enveloping movement of the three Japanese armies of Gen. Kuroki, Nodzu and Oku around Gen. Kuroptkin's position appears to be almost complete, and the extended line of the Japanese seems to be the only drawback to concerted action. It is realized here that the Russian general must now either fight or withdraw the whole army northward. He is being closely pressed at Liao Yang. At that place Gen. Kuroki's northern column makes it extremely dangerous to remain there, because, while holding the position to give battle against the Japanese, whose advance is notoriously always slow and careful, Gen. Kuroki might pass through and cut his railway communications to Liao Yang.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—A report from an apparently reliable source late Monday night was to the effect that Gen. Kuroptkin's main force had rapidly moved north for several days.

According to this report no troops proceeded to the front from Russia but had gone past Harbin in the past three days. They will be detained there and every available piece of rolling stock will be rushed south except for the ramming of towns at Liao Yang and other points to the northward, leaving a skeleton force to contest the Japanese advance on vital positions.

The report of Gen. Gen. Count Kehar's death is confirmed. He was killed July 29, while resisting the preliminary attack of Gen. Kuroki's army on the Yenesei pass, 30 miles east of Liao Yang. The general was standing near a battery which was subjected to a terrific fire when a shell burst close to him and he fell, mortally wounded, dying 30 minutes later. Before he expired Gen. Kehar had the satisfaction of knowing that the Japanese had been beaten.

The greatest anxiety prevails here for news of the general advance against the southern and eastern portions of Gen. Kuroptkin's army. The public believes that the decisive battle of the campaign is being fought but this has not yet been established. Indeed, a press correspondent hears from the keenest of military attachés in St. Petersburg that for several days the main body of the Russian army has been moving towards Mukden and that when the present line to the southeast is forced the Japanese will find that they have only crushed the shell.

Should this prove to be so, Gen. Kuroptkin will doubtless be obliged to destroy the immense quantity of stores accumulated at Liao Yang.

Shrewd military critics, however, do not believe that Gen. Kuroptkin can escape a general engagement. His army forms a wedge with Gen. Oku hammering away at the point and Gen. Nodzu and Kuroki operating with driving movements of great force against the sides. If one of the latter should break through the southern force would be doomed.

The general staff seems amazed at the immense strength of these co-operating Japanese armies. The Japanese evidently have succeeded in sealing the real number of their men and guns which the general staff now believes must be in excess of 300,000 men with between 300 and 400 guns.

IS GUEST OF PICKPOCKETS

Visitor in "Select Circles" Loses Only Hypodermic Syringes and Morphine Supply.

A curious story is told in the London Chronicle about a debbler in literature who has been studying the criminal classes at first hand, and succeeded in writing an introduction to "a select circle of clever pickpockets," with a regular meeting place of their own. The first time he shared one of the "social evenings" of this group he carried nothing in his pockets save the money necessary to take him home. On the next occasion he took some gold with him, and on leaving the house, early in the morning, found that it was still in his possession, but, on the other hand, he missed something "of no value to anyone but the owner," a bottle of morphine and a hypodermic syringe. He hastened back to the house and begged the member of the club with whom he was best acquainted to get the missing treasure restored. But he was too late: he was shown the fragments of the bottle and the syringe. The man liked him, and, knowing his weakness, had deposited one of their number to prevent him gratifying his morbid desire, at any rate for that one night.

TERRIER ATTACKS A LION.

Recent Exploring Expedition in Africa Marked by Some Thrilling Experiences.

A recent exploring expedition along the boundaries of British East Africa killed 30 lions and had some thrilling adventures. Capt. Masud, who was in command, writes in the Philadelphia Ledger: "I had a few days before been mauled by a lion. The brutes charged out from a patch of brush and Haid's shot failed to stop him. The next moment the lion had knocked him down and was mauled him.

"Haid's first terrier James, which had hitherto had a well-merited reputation for discretion, performed prodigies of valor and positively found his way into the lion's mouth, but he was not of his master's taste, and was ejected. The crowd hurried stones and sticks at the police when the two members of the mob were arrested, but none of the police were hit.

Rioters stoned the Deering street police station late Monday night and for a quarter of an hour the police battled with the crowd of 5,000 men and women as it charged the station repeatedly with sticks and stones, shouting vengeance against the police.

The trouble started when the police went to the assistance of Frank Castellano, a strike breaker, employed in the stockyards, who had been dragged from a street car and severely beaten. Before the police could reach Castellano he had fired four shots from a revolver at his assailants. One of the bullets took effect in John Sheehan's arm. The mob, already in an angry mood, became infuriated when they saw that their companion had been shot. At least a hundred men made a rush for Castellano, but he was rescued by the police. The police station was only two blocks away and Castellano was taken there for safety. Seeing that their intended victim had escaped, the rioters determined to get revenge on the police and tried to wreck the station. Stones and bricks by the hundred were hurled at the building and all the windows in the piles were broken. Charge after charge was made by the police and the rioters were driven back only by the strenuous use of clubs. These charges by the police had little effect, for, as soon as the police would return to the station, the crowd would again gather with a fresh supply of missiles and make another attack on the place.

Nearly a dozen times the police sallied forth and charged the crowd with clubs before the rioters were dispersed. In one of these charges three policemen were injured with bricks. At least 50 rioters were cut about the head in the hand-to-hand conflicts with the police before they finally became subdued.

THE SHOOT INVESTIGATION.

It Will Be Continued in Utah Soon After the Election.

Spokane, N. W., July 30.—Sen. Fred Dubois, a member of the committee on privileges and elections, which conducted the investigation of the postmaster general, said that he was satisfied with the results of the investigation. The investigation will be continued in Utah soon after election. It is likely that the committee will also visit Mormon settlements in Idaho, where especially inquiry will be made into the subject of church domination of politics. The investigation was started early in the last session of Congress and continued until adjournment.

High Price for Wheat.

Sen. Frank Murphy, of Michigan, in a speech, "I am reminded, sir, of a Chinese dog story. There was a Chinese man who had three dogs. When he came home one evening he found them asleep on his couch of teakwood and gombe. He whipped them and drove them forth. The next night when he came home, the dogs were lying on the floor. But he placed his hand on the couch and found it worm from their bodies. Therefore he gave them another whipping. The third night, returning earlier than usual, he found the dogs sitting before the couch, blowing on it to cool it."

For Winter Use.

In Cashmere there is a novel method of putting up fodder for winter use.

The country lies in a valley among the Himalayas. The chief industry of the people consists in growing fine wool, and in making webs into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world. As in winter snow lies some five or six yards deep, supplies of hay are hung among the branches of the trees, where they are easily reached by the flocks of sheep.

Old and Birth.

A Chinese child is considered a year old at his birth, and its age is reckoned from its birthday, but from its New Year's day. If it happens to be born on February 1, the day before the Chinese New Year's day, it is said to be two years old when it is two days old. It is one year old when born, and another year is added on its first New Year's day.

Adam H. C. Taylor's Successor.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Secretary Morton Friday announced the appointment of Mr. Adam Conover as chief of the bureau of navigation, navy department, to succeed the late Mr. H. C. Taylor, who died at Copper Cliff, Ont., a few days ago.

The track is now laid on the N. & W. extensions up the Big Sandy from Kenova to Dock's creek, a distance of five miles. By August 1 it is thought the rails will be laid as far as Whittle's Creek. The work will now proceed much more rapidly than in past, as practically all the bridges are completed, and it will be easier to get material on the ground. The last work on the line will be completed in August, also. —Ex.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Klemse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait on him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus

The Bugaboo of Dog-Days.

"You mustn't go in swimming, my son, it's dog-days." "If you get dog bites now you're sure to get hydrophy." "If it don't rain pretty soon I'll not rain for forty days." Those and similar declarations are heard frequently now, showing how popular is the belief that dog-days are evil days. The rising of Sirius, or the Dog-star, the largest and brightest of all the stars, is ignorantly believed to be the occasion of the extreme heat and the diseases incidental to those days, and it was by mere accident that the rising of the star coincided with the hottest season of the year in the times and countries of the old astrologers. Owing to precession the rising of the star is later and later each year in all latitudes, so that in time it will rise in the dead of winter. The ancient Romans were the first to consider Sirius, 123 billions of miles away, a star of ill omen, but as these worthless also made their prediction from the flights of birds it is scarcely worth while to tax our credulity by putting any faith in what they said concerning the planets.

So, my son, if you are dirty—and it's dollars to doughnuts you are—go take your bath in the Sandy and be clean. A bite from Towser hurts no man in December as in August, and the pretty star has as much to do with causing a drought as the phases of the moon have to do with the planting of potatoes.

Miss Heloise Thomas entertained very charmingly last Monday evening in honor of her handsome guest, Miss Mayme Wellman, of Paintsville. The beautiful Thomas is well adapted to entertaining, with its spacious parlors, wide halls and broad verandas, and on the evening mentioned it was well filled with young people bidden to greet the fair guest. There was music and dancing and feasting, and as both sexes were present there was doubtless much eyeing* and a little sighing. Mix all with some moonlight and homeward straying and a delightful evening and pleasant memories result.

Our people will regret to learn that Rev. W. M. Washington, who for three or four years has been holding Episcopal service in this place, and who is rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, Ashland, has accepted another appointment and will leave shortly for his new field of labor. He will go to Corbin, Ky., where there is a church and a large school under the control of the Church, and to which Mrs. Washington, a most accomplished woman, will teach. The going away of Mr. and Mrs. Washington will be a distinct loss to the Church and the community in which they live.

By orders from Cincinnati the headquarters of the office force of the river improvement moved to Catlettsburg Monday. Mr. Thomas, engineer in charge, goes down every morning, while Mr. Harrett, the clerk, will live to Catlettsburg. He will probably make "occasional" Sunday visits to Louise. Big Sandy girls certainly do play the mischief with Uncle Sam's river improvement boys. But Mr. Thomas registers no "kick." He was the first to fall, and there have been many others.

Gen. William Clarke, of Pennsylvania, who has been looking over the oil and gas territory in this region, went home Wednesday, but will return. Gen. Clarke was a distinguished soldier of the Civil War, seeing service from the Mississippi to the James. He is Past Grand Commander of the National League of Union Veterans, one of the most exclusive military organizations in the United States.

Benton Tynynolds met with a peculiar and painful accident last Saturday. In some way he collided with a dog on the street not far from the Arlington and was thrown to the ground. He was helped to his feet, when it was discovered that one of his legs was broken between the ankle and the knee. The accident will confine him to the house several weeks.

The latest feature arranged for the entertainment of the young ladies visiting in Louise was the hayride last Saturday night. The crowd filled two wagons, and the delightful refreshments filled three or four dozen people. They went four miles on the Huseyville road and returned about low twelve having had "the neatest time you ever saw."

Peter Blankinship was arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshal Thos. Salyer and taken before Commissioner M. B. Burns upon a charge of selling liquor without government license. He was held over to the U. S. grand jury. It seems that Peter has been ordering whiskey, and after the arrival at the express office would find buyers for it.

Superintendent H. C. Boughton and Trainmaster Robinson, of the C. & O., went over the O. & R. S. Division Monday noting future changes in the line of the road between Catlettsburg and Louise.

Among other things it is likely that there will be tanks at Iuch-Tahle, I. R. Andrews, the one at Catlettsburg being abandoned.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Johnson county has a blind candidate for Assessor.

Edmund Williams died at Pikeville of typhoid fever.

Ashland has let contracts for street paving to the amount of $62,000. An Ironton firm secured the entire job.

There is considerable talk of Thompson, of Huntington, W. Va., for the Democratic nomination for Governor. The Southern part of the State would be glad to have him thus honored.

Shade L. Preston, well known steam-boatman and good citizen of Paintsville, was killed by Sherman Boyd last Friday. Boyd was abusing his wife, it is said, when Preston interfered and cut his throat.

Kentucky has the oldest man in the United States, and records bear out the statement. In Carter county lives David Wado, who this month will be 117 years of age. Mr. Wado was born August 20th, 1787.—Ex.

The Carter County Fiscal Court met Saturday and accepted the bond of J. W. Peck as tax collector, by order of the United States Court. The Court was forced to pay Mr. Peck $110,000, his cost in prosecuting his claim.

The foundation of the College building is completed and ready for the brick layers to begin work on the walls. We are informed that the workmen will be here in a few days and the building will be pushed to completion.—Martin County News.

Nancy, wife of the late lamented Capt. Joseph M. Kirk, and mother of Circuit Judge A. J. Kirk, fell on the pavement at her home on Main street in this city sustaining a fractured thigh. She is improving now and it is thought she will recover in a few weeks.—Martin County News.

The Ashland Independent says: Hon. "Tip" Moore was here yesterday from Weipertville, Lawrence county. He was chauffering a crowd of children, visiting the ice cream parlors, candy kitchens, and other points of interest to children, and he seemed just as happy as they, for it is his delight to entertain children. In the party were, Willie Belle Cole, his granddaughter, and her cousins, Margaret and Rebecca Lackey, of Louisa, Chatle Songer, Fred and Clifford Songer. After enjoying the morning in this way, they all went to the home of C. S. Songer, on East Winchell avenue, where dinner was served.

Mrs. Ireland Dead.

This community will regret to learn that Mrs. Pamela Ireland, wife of Judge William Ireland, deceased, died in Ashland last Monday. Mrs. Ireland was well known to many of the citizens of Louise, where, during the life time of her distinguished husband, she was a frequent and welcome visitor. She was a woman of much culture and refinement and of a most lovable disposition and gracious manner.

During the life of Judge Ireland his home was never the scene of an abundant hospitality, and the presence of his wife lent a pleasing grace to many a notable gathering. Mrs. Ireland was in her 77th year when called from earth to a better world.

Capt. W. O. Johnson, 10th U. S. Infantry, came Tuesday to visit his mother and other Louise relatives. Capt. Johnson—"Will" to most Louisianians—will remain a couple of weeks and then return to Fort Slocum, Governor's Island, N. Y. His stay there will be brief, however, as in September he goes to the Academy at West Point as Assistant Professor of Modern Languages. His tour there will be four years. Mrs. Johnson and child are with her mother in Connecticut. Captain Johnson's career is but another illustration of the truth of what the News has so often said: Every Louise boy who has gone out into the world and tried to be something has succeeded.

Marion Martin, Jr., whose sudden death was briefly noticed in the News last week, was the son of W. J. Martin, and moved to Louise from Floyd county last November. He was well known in that section and lived the life of a Christian, being for years a consistent member of the Southern Methodist Church. Fifteen years ago he fell a victim to Bright's disease, and from that time to the day of his sudden death he lived in ever-failing health. He lived a quiet, retired life in Louise, much liked by all who knew him. To the many who rendered a much appreciated service in their hour of sorrow the widow, daughter and brother-in-law tender their warmest thanks.

The interment took place Friday afternoon in Pine Hill Cemetery. Carrying on the often expressed desire of Mr. Martin the usual funeral sermon was dispensed with, and the burial was made with very little ceremony.

The big collection of Taxes.

T. S. Thompson, while County Attorney, filed a suit in 1900 in the Franklin Court against the C. & O. railway to enforce the payment of franchise taxes from the year 1896 up. The case was appealed and the higher court decided that it must be paid. A few days ago the Sheriff received a check for $7,250.00 in settlement of these taxes from 1896 to 1903. This large sum will help the county out considerably. Mr. Thompson is, naturally, considerably elated over the victory.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an aesculus on my right wing," writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. Klug's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by A. M. Hughes, Druggist, Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

I find nothing better for liver de-rangement and constipation than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tincture.—J. R. Andrews, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by A. M. Hughes.

Louisa Flouring Mill.

After some months of inactivity the Louisa Flouring Mill will be ready for all kinds of business pertaining to a first-class plant of that character next Monday. John G. Burns has rented the property and will make a high grade article of flour and meal. Recognizing the importance of such an establishment, and its value in an agricultural community, the lessee will endeavor to run the mill in such a manner as will be mutually profitable to all concerned. To this end he invites all who have grain to grind to bring it to the Louisa mill, assuring them that their return will be entirely satisfactory as to quality and quantity of the product. Bran, shorts and chopped feed will be kept for sale as soon as they can be made.

A Welcome Visitor.

The first big show of the season will visit this place on Thursday, August 18th.

Surely this item of news will please the young folks, the children and the older ones also. Sun Bros., World's progressive Railroad Show is one that has a standing record for presenting a good performance in one big ring, in the good old style. Sun Bros. run their show strictly on business and moral principles. Nothing is permitted to appear that will mar the pleasure of the skeptically inclined. Neither are the usual army of fakirs (one seen following in the wake of shows) allowed to follow this organization. Fully two hours and one-half of enjoyment is afforded. Let all attend. Afternoons at 2 o'clock. Evenings at 8 o'clock.

He Drew a Prize.

Jay A. Vinton, of this place, was fortunate enough to draw a prize in the recent drawing for land at the opening of part of the Iobud Reservation to settlement. His number is well toward the first, and as the prizes are limited, and much of the land is good, he will most probably be the owner of a good tract of land. Mr. Vinton started yesterday to make his election, and the News hopes he will strike it rich. There is lots of poor land there, however, and some who go out to settle will do well to buy a return ticket if they can. Mr. Vinton's number is high enough to give him a chance to claim $3,000 to $6,000. There were only two successful Kentuckians in the entire list.

WHITE MICE CAUSE PANIC.

Women at Atlantic City Else in Confusion from the Horrible Little Rodents.

Willie Fitzgerald, a newsboy of Atlantic City, N. J., was carrying six white mice in a box down the board walk one day recently, when a rolling chair hit him, causing him to drop the box. The lid flew open and out jumped the mice. The walk was crowded with hundreds of men, women and children, and the feminine contingent scattered in all directions. Neither direction nor the manner of going was considered, the women giving vent to heartrending yells.

Miss Eda Lintman, of Lancaster, Pa., who feared much about athletics while at Vassar, made a hound for the rolling on the board walk, cleared it and landed on the beach. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Evans, who came from Pittsburgh on their honeymoon, were suddenly separated. Mrs. Evans made off down the board walk, and was only found after a three hours' search.

An aged invalid woman, who was being wheeled down the board walk in a rolling chair, forgot her silences, gave a leap from the carriage and ran up on an adjacent avenue. Another woman, who, it is estimated, weighed close to 250 pounds, slipped as she started to run, and landed with all her weight on one of the mice.

JOURNALISM IS GREAT FIELD

George Meredith, of England, Says It Almost Takes the Place of Government.

George Meredith, the father of contemporary English letters, has been giving vigorous expression in his opinions on current affairs.

Regarding journalism he said: "It is most likely that practical journalists, like practical politicians, will have to go largely on opportunistic lines. Though most of my work has been journalistic, I have done a certain amount of journalism and I recognize its difficulties. But it has extraordinary power, too, and great opportunity for fine influence. It has almost taken the place of government. It is true that the editorials in nearly all the newspapers have fallen off very much quite recently. I don't know the reason for that, but still newspapers have very great influence. The power and functions of government are undoubtedly diminishing. I don't know whether we shall reach the time when there will be no government at all, as some people hope, but certainly that is the tendency. Tyranny, which is the complete form of government, has been tried and proved to be impossible. We shall never have that again unless the democracy betrays it."

FACTS ABOUT LIBERTY BELL

People with Weakness for Histories Find Independence Hall of Absorbing Interest.

People with a weakness for sitting in the chairs in which great people have sat may be able to appreciate the satisfaction which some strangers in Philadelphia enjoy in gazing at the oaken rafters in Independence hall from which the Liberty bell has hung, says the Record. Reserve Officer Orr, who is stationed in this hall, says he cannot see that the absence of this treasured relic makes any difference in the number of visitors. Furthermore, these visitors now spend about as much time in looking at the case as they do when the bell hangs inside. Sightseers, as a rule, plan to devote so much time to a certain thing, and so true to their itinerary are they that the mere fact that it isn't there doesn't in the least disturb their equilibrium. By way of compensation, the reserve officer often explains just how big the bell is, how it hangs, how they take it out, and other details of absorbing interest.

VAST TRAVEL IN LONDON.

Estimated That 800,000,000 Separate Journeys Are Made by Passengers Annually.

There are 6,000 miles of railway in greater London, and it is estimated that something like 600,000,000 separate journeys are made by passengers annually. The number of journeys on an average day is over 500,000. An idea of the vehicular traffic in the streets may be gathered from the statement that in 12 hours 16,000 vehicles of all kinds passed a particular spot in Piccadilly, and a full service of 600 buses pass the bank of England in an hour. The number of passengers carried by the London trams in a year is over 360,000,000. A census taken of the number of pedestrians who crossed over the London bridge on a certain day showed that they totaled 116,902, and in 19 hours during a day in April last year 245,015 people crossed the roadways at the bank.

Deep Mining.

Great advance in deep level mining is the result of the advance in engineering science. Some years ago 3,000 feet was considered a great depth, but this limit has been much exceeded. At Fleno, Belgium, 3,600 feet has been touched, while at Calcutta, India, and Tamaqua, in the United States, mines from 4,500 to 5,400 feet have been worked. The temperature is the great thing to be overcome.

KILLED BY A BOMB.

M. Von Plehva, Russian Minister of the Interior, Assassinated.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—M. Von Plehva, minister of the interior, was assassinated at 9:50 o'clock Thursday morning by a bomb thrown at his carriage while he was driving to the Baltic station to take a train for the palace at Peterhof, where he was to make his weekly report to the emperor.

The assassin wore a brown overcoat and a railroad official's cap. He stood on the sidewalk just as Minister Von Plehva's carriage was about to cross the canal bridge near the station.

The minister was escorted by a number of detectives on bicycles, and one of them jostled the assassin, who then rushed into the road and threw the bomb after the carriage.

The force of the explosion was so terrific that it not only broke every window within a radius of half a mile, but reduced the heavy paving stones to powder, heaved up the pavement and flung a heavy piece of the iron-work of the carriage across the canal.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—M. Von Plehva, the minister of the interior, who was assassinated Thursday morning last, was buried Sunday and in every city and hamlet of this vast empire church bells were tolled and masses were said for the repose of the soul of the murdered minister. The services here, which were according to the rites of the Orthodox church, were of an impressive and moving character.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—The assassin of Minister of the Interior Plehva died Monday as the result of the injuries he sustained at the time he threw the bomb at the minister. He made no disclosures before his death.

THE DEPORTED MINERS.

Council Aims Daunting Means to Enable Them to Return.

Cripple Creek, Col., July 30.—Four thousand three hundred and nineteen cards have been issued to miners of the Cripple Creek district by the Mine Owners' association and 300 applications are still on file. Of the total number issued to date more than 2,100 have been in exchange for cards surrendered by former members of the Western Federation of Miners, who have renounced allegiance to the organization.

Deaver, Aug. 1.—Attorneys H. N. Hawking and John H. Murphy, counsel for the Western Federation of Miners, are devising ways and means to enable the deported Cripple Creek miners to return to their homes. Papers are being drawn and application will be made to some court, possibly the federal court, for an injunction restraining the citizens' alliance and mine owners from interfering with any deportee who returns to the Cripple Creek district.

The Western federation officials are also making arrangements to reopen the union stores in Cripple Creek and Victor that were raided and looted by mob on June 6 and 7.

Sheriff Edward Bell, of Teller county, has advised against the reopening of the stores or the return of the deportees, fearing that such action will lead to violence.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

Increase of $13,549,639 During the Month of July.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business, July 31, 1904, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $89,781,413, which is an increase for the month of $13,549,639.

This increase is accounted for by the decrease of $14,945,682 in the amount of cash and $30,000 with $8,800 insurance. The stable was owned by J. L. Lee, and valued at $8,000, with insurance amounting to only $1,500.

The Owsowabo undertaking establishment occupied a part of the stable.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

Fifteen horses were burned to death in the stable and about 20 were rescued.

Better Than Mere "Thank You."

There is something of the German Kaiser's character in the young king of Spain, and already his people are well aware of that fact. Recently, when driving through Malaga, a small and rugged archin broke through the guards and jumped right into his carriage.

"What have you to say?" asked the king. "I want a new jacket and hose, your majesty." "But have you no father?" inquired Alonso. "Yes," replied the boy. "The young inquirer thereupon took his address. "Are you not going to thank his majesty?" inquired the steward. "I seen," said the shy boy. "I mean to say, to a suit for a horse." "What is a wedding suit?" the woman asked in a strange voice. "No," he answered nervously. "It was a business suit." "Well, I mean business," said the woman.

Five Horses Perish in a Fire.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 1.—The livery stable of Deale & Lee was burned, entailing a loss of $30,000 with $8,800 insurance.

The stable was owned by S. J. Lee, and valued at $8,000, with insurance amounting to only $1,500.

The Owsowabo undertaking establishment occupied a part of the stable.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

Fifteen horses were burned to death in the stable and about 20 were rescued.

Prarie Girl Wearles of Trees.

A prarie girl from Waterville, Kan., went to the Indian territory with her parents. Writing of her new home, she says: "I have enough trees at last. I am tired of them. It is pretty tiresome trying to make friends of the mountain and the trees—they grow monotonous and their very beauty makes one long-some."

Kentucky Corporations.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 2.—The following new companies filed incorporation articles with secretary of state Monday: Union Bank and Trust Co., of Frankfort, $100,000; Hopkinsville Gas and Electric Light Co., of Hopkinsville, $25,000.

Married in Night Rabe.

Newport, Ky., Aug. 1.—Squire Donegan, of Donegan, was awakened Saturday night and at the door found a bridal couple. His son said he would have to dress for the occasion, but the couple assured him that his night garments would answer.

Newboys Organize.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 2.—Lexington newsboys Monday organized an anti-swearing and anti-fighting society.

A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys and constipation are the great enemies of health.

Two Holes in Night Rabe.
